vessels are endeavoring to aid the allied troops in holding back the German advance, nothing was vouchsafed in the report.

Aldrich, in Upper Alsace, near the Swiss frontier, has been taken by the French at the point of the bayonet. Since the outbreak of the war this town has been the scene of much fighting and several times has changed hands.

Petrograd claims the Germans continue to retreat and that Emperor Nicholas' forces have crossed the Vistula without resistance. The Austrians are given credit in the Russian report for continuing to fight stubbornly on the Vistula, on the San and south of Przemyśl. No reports were received from Germany or Austria, and Serbia likewise was silent regarding the operations in the south.

NO SEARCH SEAS FOR GERMAN CRUISERS.

The British admiralty has issued a statement saying that the necessity to use its warships for convoy duty having passed, British cruisers, aided by vessels of the Australian, Japanese, French and Russian navies, will search the seas in an endeavor to run down the eight or nine German cruisers, including the Emden and the Karlsruhe, which have been playing havoc with shipping of the allied countries.

Great Britain has prohibited importation of sugar to keep the German and Austrian product from being shipped in from neutral countries.

President Wilson has approved demands of the state department on Great Britain for the release of the steamers Platania and Brindilla. The president took the position that every right American shipping must be protected.

The Germans appear to be making a new effort with new organizations of the state department on Great Britain for the release of the steamers Platania and Brindilla. The president took the position that every right American shipping must be protected.

The fast German cruiser Karlsruhe has become a rival of the German cruiser Emden as a destroyer of the enemy's merchant vessels. Word comes from the Canary Islands that the Karlsruhe has sunk thirteen British merchantmen in the Atlantic.

A dispatch from Pekin says that a German torpedo boat destroyer, which escaped from Kiao-Chow bay, was captured by warships of the allies.

The German press generally charges outrages against the allied troops. The Vorwarts, the socialist organ of Berlin, is an exception. It states that upon investigation it has found no basis of truth in the allegations of cruelties inflicted upon German soldiers and civilians.

MONARCHISTS ATTEMPT

UPRISINGS IN PORTUGAL

London, October 22.—(Via Paris, Oct. 22, 5:30 p. m.)—The monarchists of Portugal made attempts the nights of October 20 and 21 to overthrow the republican government.

There were outbreaks at various places, especially in the northern part of Portugal, which for a time was cut off from telegraphic communication with Lisbon.

A sharp conflict took place at Mafra between 100 civilians and republican troops.

The Karlsruhe, a comparatively new ship, having gone into commission early in 1913. She is very fast, has a speed of twenty-seven knots, which has enabled her thus far to successfully elude the persistent British pursuit.

She carries a crew of 173 men.

Since then the Karlsruhe has appeared in several places in the Atlantic.

The Karlsruhe was seen off the coast of Brazil after preying in various southern waters.

A statement given out in Berlin on October 22, said that the Karlsruhe had been seen off the coast of Brazil.

13 British Vessels Sunk By the Cruiser Karlsruhe

German Warship's Exploits in the Atlantic as Successful as Those of Emden in Indian Ocean.

London, October 22.—(6:40 a. m.)—A dispatch from Tenerife, Canary Islands, which arrived here with the Thursday morning edition of the Daily Mail under date of Thursday, reports that the German cruiser Karlsruhe has sunk thirteen British merchantmen in the Atlantic.

The news of the Karlsruhe's exploit, according to The Daily Mail's Tenerife correspondent, was brought to that port by the German steamer Cidre, which arrived there with the crew of the Karlsruhe.

The Karlsruhe was accompanied into port by the German steamers Patagonia, Rio Negro and Amazon.

A later message states that over 400 men of the crew are prisoners and that the merchantmen were mostly sunk in the Atlantic. The ships were mostly engaged in the South American trade and their total tonnage is about 10,000.

The cruiser Karlsruhe, a ship of a little less than 5,000 tons, has had in her a series of successful exploits in the Atlantic as that of her smaller sister ship the Emden, in the Indian ocean.

The Karlsruhe first came into notice when she was seen off the coast of Brazil, where it was reported that she had sunk a British merchantman.

70 CRUISERS WANT FOR SEA TERRORS

British Admiralty Adds to the Warships Searching for Karlsruhe, Emden and Other German Cruisers.

London, October 22.—(7 p. m.)—The admiralty tonight issued a statement outlining steps that are being taken to round up the eight or nine German cruisers at large in the Atlantic, Pacific and Indian oceans. These cruisers include the Emden, which has sunk or captured twenty British ships, and the Karlsruhe, which has taken thirteen British ships in the Atlantic. The statement says:

"The vast expanse of sea and ocean and the thousands of islands off which the cruisers are making their way, make the task of the admiralty a very difficult one. It has been maintained in the face of increasing difficulty the discovery and destruction of these cruisers largely is a matter of time, rather than of money."

The statement says that the admiralty has decided to send out a fleet of 70 cruisers to search for the German cruisers.

German Officers Shot When They Halt Convoy.

Paris, October 22.—(11:44 p. m.)—Violent attacks and counter-attacks continued throughout last night and today along the battle front from North sea to Switzerland, according to reports here tonight from various sections of the line. No noticeable change was effected, though the allies were compelled to give way a little at Laasne, 17 miles southwest of Lille.

At Arras the fighting was very stubborn and the allies gained some ground.

Two officers in British uniform today halted the motor column to an ammunition convoy as it was proceeding to the British lines at Arras.

"Halt, you are running right into the German trenches," was the command given to the convoy.

The captain in command noted that the man who issued the order spoke with a slight accent, and drew his revolver and shot both his supposed comrades. At the same moment a suddenly a German cavalry appeared a short distance away.

The allied commander ordered the truck drivers to dismount with their rifles and shot both his supposed comrades. At the same moment a suddenly a German cavalry appeared a short distance away.

Battle Line Sways Before Fierce Attack of Germans

While the Allies Are Forced Back at Some Points, the Kaiser's Men Lose Ground at Others.

London, October 23.—(P. M.)—The Germans have undertaken a general offensive along the line extending from the mouth of the river Yser, on the North sea, to the river Meuse, and while they have forced the allies to give ground in some places, they themselves have lost positions in others. This report, it is what is gathered from tonight's official French and German reports.

Today's German attack was particularly severe in the west, where their right wing, strongly reinforced, attempted an advance against the Belgians holding the allies' extreme left. This left rests on the coast and is supported by British and French ships and by Anglo-French troops which form a front extending from a point somewhere in the vicinity of the Franco-Belgian frontier to the German advance and the invaders have been almost to Paris and back in the interval, no decisive battle has been fought.

Neither side has destroyed or partly destroyed an army. Even the Belgian army escaped almost intact after that country was overrun by the Germans. The same can be said of operations in the east, except in the case of Lieutenant General Samsonoff, the Russian commander, whose army was partly destroyed by the Germans in the battle of Tannenberg, East Prussia.

In the present battle on the river Vistula, from Warsaw south to the river Pilica, the Russians have captured many prisoners, besides guns and ammunition. But the retreating army when it gets back to its selected position, can entrench and start another siege battle, such as that on the river Alsace in France. Southward of the Pilica the Germans still hold the river Vistula except in front of the fortress at Prangard, where they were driven back by attacks from that stronghold.

The Austrian army, so often described as routed and destroyed, has swung into line again and is attacking the Russian left wing. The Austrians, however, apparently have found an impenetrable barrier at the river San, south of Jasielau.

The German victory over the Russians west of Augustow, Suwalki, yesterday in the direction of Opatow, south of Augustow, shows that the Germans are attempting to advance from East Prussia into the government of Grodno, and of the Polish frontiers to reinforce their army in that region.

All these movements, however, have brought the belligerents no nearer their goals, which were not attained until an army is destroyed or one of the three becomes too exhausted to fight further.

The British admiralty tonight issued a report saying the German cruiser Krasruhe had captured thirteen British steamers in the Atlantic. The only definite fact which served as a basis for the report is that the climax has been reached in the sea, land and air battle across the channel is that armies, however numerous, cannot indefinitely face the decimation of their ranks, which has marked this, the latest phase of the great campaign.

For nearly a week this combat has waged with unabated fury without either side being able to register a decisive victory. That the slaughter and the destruction of life through the opposing lines transcends anything heretofore seen in this campaign is admitted on both sides. Nevertheless, neither the terrible effect of the long and unbroken fighting, nor the fact of offering no natural defensive positions, although vouched for both officially and unofficially, has prevented the allied forces on land has yet succeeded in stemming the "breakthrough" tactics of the Germans.

English news dispatches make sweeping claims of annihilating successes. German dispatches assert continued progress, and Russian telegrams report great victories, but well-defined evidence to support these various contentions is lacking, and the real fact appears to be that in neither the east nor the west has the war been decided by the tide yet turned decisively.

Karlruhe Olive Shells. The great haul of merchant ships by the German cruiser Karlruhe, now fully confirmed by London dispatches, was a rude shock to those who have contended that the Atlantic ocean was held safely by the British navy.

Chambers of commerce are agitating for a sweeping operation sufficiently wide to get both the German cruiser and the Russian navy, and the equally successful Karlruhe.

A dispatch from Paris to Reuters' Telegram company says that, according to trustworthy accounts received at the French capital this morning, fresh troops brought up by the Germans have enabled them to deliver attacks with increased vigor on the French right wing where the battle has been of a ding-dong character with alternate gains and losses.

French Navy Helms. Vessels from the French navy, having crept around the coast, were today standing by the British monitors which were today standing by the British monitors which were today standing by the British monitors.

For the first time since the war began, the British navy has been firing forward fresh troops and heavy guns, and the British navy has been firing forward fresh troops and heavy guns.

GERMANS ARE WINNING, BY ALLIES, SAYS PARIS

Only Time Required to Reduce the Kaiser's Army to a Beaten Mob, It Is Reported.

Petrograd, October 23.—The following official communication was issued tonight by the Russian staff: "The energetic offensive of our armies, which have crossed the Vistula on a large front, encounter no resistance on the part of the Germans, who continue to retreat."

"In the trenches below Ivangorod we took large quantities of war stores and ammunition abandoned by the retreating troops of the Prussian guard in its hasty retreat."

The Austrian army continue to fight with stubbornness on the Vistula on the San and particularly to the south of Przemysl.

"In East Prussia there is no change in the situation."

Army Almost a Mob. London, October 23.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Post, in telegraphing a review of the situation on the Russian front, says: "Only time is now required to reduce the German army to a beaten mob."

The Russian cavalry, the president of the Russian republic, is ever on the move, and the Russian army is ever on the move, and the Russian army is ever on the move.

"Wounded men, in their accounts of the fighting around the village of Krasnaia, state that while the artillery duel was proceeding for several days and nights the troops were unable to move. Finally the artillery became equal on both sides and orders were made to make a bayonet attack. The soldiers, stiff and miserable from their long confinement in the flooded trenches, were only too delighted to obey the order, and dashed upon the German line with irresistible vigor. The Germans, for the second time during the war on this side, met them with a bayonet and a terrible fight ensued. Neither side could gain the advantage and the slaughter was fearful."

"Finally, a Russian hurrah came on the wind from the flank followed by brisk firing. The Germans mistook this for a successful offensive movement and they broke and fled, abandoning everything in their run for safety. The Russians pursued them for twenty miles and the plain was strewn with the German dead."

Food Abandoned in East. In a dispatch from Warsaw the correspondent of Reuters' Telegram company says: "Many soldiers had to precipitate that the supplies of food and other necessities are exhausted. The prisoners taken, complete set of 300 men has been captured by the Russians."

Petrograd dispatch to Reuters' Telegram company says: "The comparative ineffectiveness of aerial warfare was proved today. German bombs thrown by German aircraft missed the railway stations and telephone stations and troops on the march. The German aircraft destroyed the story of some private homes, while many houses were left standing."

"Only one bomb dropping was attended with serious results. It killed some infantry baggage and wounded some German soldiers who were standing near by."

"The Russian army, which was seen to be maintaining its pressure with great vigor, was seen to be maintaining its pressure with great vigor, was seen to be maintaining its pressure with great vigor."

Ground Lost and Won By Allies, Says Paris

Paris, October 23.—(11:10 P. M.)—The French official communication, issued tonight, says: "On our left wing the action continues with great violence, notably around Arras, La Bassée and Arras."

"The allies have lost some ground at some points around La Bassée, but have won some at the cost of Arras."

"Generally speaking, on this part of the front, the situation remains the same."

"To the north of the Aisne our artillery has destroyed three German batteries."

"Generally speaking, on this part of the front, the situation remains the same."

Atlanta Saturday Night Enjoined by Parkhurst From Publishing Story

The Atlanta Saturday Night, the weekly publication, was last night temporarily enjoined from publishing a certain story about William P. Parkhurst, former advertising manager. The suit was filed through J. C. Simmons, of Simmons & Simmons, and the order was signed by Judge Bell.

Many English firms have posted notices that the services of unwarmed men of military age will be dispensed with, bringing this pressure to bear on the publishers of the Atlanta Saturday Night that his services as an advertising manager were no longer required.

When a man says he feels like a "two year old" he means he's as full of joy and sunshine as that two year old tobacco called VELVET.

Over two years' careful ageing of Kentucky's Barley de Luxe tobacco brings out to the full that taste and fragrance and mellowness for which VELVET is noted. 10c tins and 5c metal-lined bags.

$5.00, $5.75, $6.50, $7.50 Waists $1.98 To the Number of 200 in a Sale, 1

Two hundred waists whose prices ranged from $5.00 to $7.50, on the tables today at $1.98. It looks as if this should be the waist opportunity of the season.

Chiffons, Crepes de Chine, Messalines Long and short sleeves, many kinds of collars, lace and button and band trimmings, every color imaginable—it will be little or no trouble to find a waist to match one's suit.

Smart styles throughout—they are all from our carefully selected stocks. An early start will be best. We do not see how such values can stay long.

We Could Say Much About These Junior Suits Priced at $15.00 Junior Department—Third Floor

We could say much, because we have done much—we have succeeded in getting more value into suits at $15.00 than heretofore. It shows in materials—serges, chevrons, gabardines—but it shows most prominently in the styles.

Smart, attractive, charming for the young folks—with coats of graceful length, belted, redingote, with Roman striped collars and cuffs; with plain and plaited skirts.

Having in mind to pay $15 for a suit? Let us show what we have done for you.

New Junior Suits at $25.00 to $45.00 have just come in the Junior Department. And they are new in another sense than just arrived.

Long and short coats, box plaited and belted, perhaps with fur collars and cuffs; others braided; most of them fashioned along straight lines; these in broadcloths, serges, and fine, soft-toned plaids.

Which Is the Fabric and Which Is the Kid Glove? Place them side by side, stand away two feet, and we venture you cannot tell which is the "Doette" and which is the genuine doekins glove.

The "Doette," a Fownes glove, has every appearance of the doekins, and this advantage—it may be washed without hurt.

It comes in the yellow, "natural" color, and white with self or black stitching, $1.00.

Associated Charities Needed, Says Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin

Lee G. Council, Head of Georgia Bankers, Made
Mayor of Americus

Americus, Ga., October 23.—(Special.) Lee G. Council, a prominent American banker and president of the Georgia State Bankers' association, has just been elected mayor of Americus by a flattering majority over both of his opponents combined, Eugene Lockett and Lee Allen, who ran in the order named. The entire aldermanic body favored Council was also elected, January 2. Council, City Clerk and Treasurer Harvey Weaver had a landslide for reelection. The counting of ballots in yesterday's election was not concluded until 2 o'clock this morning owing to the unusually large vote.

Municipal ownership of electric lighting plant was largely an issue in this election, and suffered a distinct defeat upon the basis proposed. The election was a popular demonstration and hundreds of citizens marched with the band of the Democratic league, headed by a Columbia brass band, to the hotel where the Democratic league band was made by Mayor-elect L. G. Council and the newly-elected aldermen.

Government Selects

State Sanitarium for Pellagra Experiments

Millersville, Ga., October 23.—(Special.) The fact that the records of pellagra cases as kept in the Georgia state sanitarium for the past year have been found to be the most perfect of any in the country, the United States government has chosen this institution over all others for special experimental work in cases of the disease.

The direction of two experts of the public health service, who are to be stationed at the sanitarium, is to be conducted by the government. It was learned today that the patients to be segregated and kept under special treatment and diet. The food served to the patients is to be cooked especially for them, and they will be permitted only to eat certain things, each patient being kept on the food from the sanitarium to the stomach of each patient.

MARSH HENS FALL LIKE THE BELGIANS

Brunswick, Ga., October 23.—(Special.)—Local hunters who were out yesterday with the highest spring tide of the season, and who were around Brunswick resembled one of those fierce battles on the coast of Belgium. It was the first time since the war that there had been a battle of this kind. These birds are plentiful in marshes and swamps, and have been protected by the law since the first time that any large number of them were killed.

BIBLE AS TEXT-BOOK DISCUSSED BY LYMAN

A lecture was delivered to the students of Morris Brown university, which Rev. W. A. Fountain is president, Friday morning by Professor Lyman C. Lyman, of Chicago, superintendent of the International Sunday School Association for Teacher Training in Negro Colleges and Seminaries of the South. He spoke at length upon the possibilities of the Bible being taught in all the schools as a text-book, and as a result, yesterday was the first time that any large number of them were killed.

POSSE RECAPTURES C. G. HUTCHINSON

Hazelhurst, Ga., October 23.—(Special.)—Sheriff Ellis posse captured C. Hutchinson, who escaped from the sheriff here yesterday, near Vidalia, in Thomas county, this morning and returned him here. DREADFUL PAINS GREAT SUFFERING

Was the Lot of This Lady Who Tells the Story of How She Recovered Her Health.

Dallas, N. C.—Mrs. Thomas Davis, of this place, says: "About two years ago, when I was eighteen years old, I was in a bad condition from womanly troubles. I felt off until I weighed not more than 35 lbs.

I suffered dreadful pains in my hips, sides and abdomen, for about 5 days out of every month.

I couldn't sleep at night, and the pains were so dreadful I couldn't sit down for the blood would seem to rush to my head.

I felt I must have some relief, for it seemed that the awful suffering would surely kill me.

I had read of what Cardui had done for others, and thought I would try it.

After the use of one bottle, the pains had entirely stopped and I was able to sleep.

After using four bottles, I was a well woman, I was regular, I got back my flesh, and I now weigh 125 lbs., and am able to do all my work without any trouble.

I certainly recommend Cardui to suffering women, for I know it cured me.

My friends who saw me when I weighed 35 pounds and who said to me now, would know what Cardui had done for me.

Try Cardui.

MAISON BANKS INDORSE COUNTY ASSOCIATIONS

All Banks Will Join Association—Farmers and Business Men Will Meet Today.

Macon, Ga., October 23.—(Special.)—The banks forming the Macon Clearing House association, at their meeting today, indorsed the plan for the organization of the county co-operative associations which will be formed in Bibb and other counties tomorrow.

Each bank in the city agreed to become a member of the association. The Macon meeting will be held at the chamber of commerce at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, and the indications are that several hundred farmers and business men will be on hand to sign the pledge.

Quite recently a gentleman in Europe, observing the passage of some troops through the village, noticed the women in their enthusiasm, offering little gifts to the soldiers and making some inquiries, ascertained that the soldiers almost invariably asked for chocolate or cigarettes. Later, Lady Curzon, who had been in the village, and in almost every case, your skin gets well so quickly you feel ashamed of the money you threw away on tedious, useless treatments.

GEN. CARRANZA WILLING TO RETIRE AS CHIEF

Stipulates, However, That Gen. Villa Must Not Get His Job.

Washington, October 23.—General Carranza is willing to retire as chief executive in Mexico City if General Villa is not instrumental in procuring his resignation. He also wishes assurance that his retirement will not mean Villa's ascendancy.

This explanation of Carranza's position made information at Mexico City was received by the American government here today.

General Carranza, who indicated he was willing to have the Aguascalientes convention request that both he and Villa give way to a neutral for the provisional presidency.

Official reports to the state department told of the advance northward of several thousand of Carranza's troops. This was explained by Carranza representatives as being a precautionary defense if the convention came to no agreement and Villa moved his forces southward.

Official reports show that Mexico City newspapers are attacking the Carranza government.

With his subject, "The Toboggan slide to Hell," Evangelist, often preached one of his characteristic "hot-shots" sermons at the First Methodist church Friday evening, where he is holding two weeks' revival.

Turning back to the Toboggan slide as the title of his sermon, he said that he did not confine the ride to the ordinary sinners, but included card players, dancers, theatergoers, and church members who are self-righteous.

"A whole lot of church members," he said, "are going straight to hell, while they think they are on the way to heaven."

A meeting for the children was held Friday afternoon and hundreds of little folks were present to hear the evangelist talk about the child's work for Sunday.

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock there was a meeting for most of the children and men and youths throughout the city.

Services will be held Sunday morning and evening and every morning and evening throughout next week.

Thursday evening there will be a special service for the young men.

Bruswick Wallingford Cuts Very Broad Swath In Large Number of Cities

Brunswick, Ga., October 23.—(Special.)—That Max Mancel, now in Glynn county jail after purchasing a local grocery store and wastering a number of worthless checks over the city, is a noted crook and embezzler is the belief of local officers, and every day evidence is showing up to indicate that the man is wanted on some charge of fraud.

Man, who got away from Brunswick after giving a number of worthless checks, was captured in Waycross just as he was boarding a train.

Yesterday the local officers received a telegram from Sheriff W. C. C. of Tampa, Fla., announcing that Mancel was wanted in that city on a charge of grand embezzlement, and that a large reward had been offered for his capture.

After stating that he had a large sum of money in a New Haven, Conn. bank, which he had recently transferred to a local bank and that the checks given here had been drawn against this amount, the man now admits that he has no money in the Connecticut bank. All other statements made by him have been shown to be erroneous.
